

Proclamation
By Mayor Sheila Dixon
Designating June 5, 2009
As
"Baltimore Green Map Day"
in Baltimore, MD

Whereas, the Baltimore community is concerned about the well-being and future of our planet, but many Baltimoreans are unaware of ways to connect with our resources in order to better the environment; and

Whereas, Baltimore Green Map is a tool developed to encourage the discovery and use of Baltimore's natural, cultural, and green living resources for both city residents and visitors; and

Whereas, the Baltimore Green Map navigation system enhances sustainability through its promotion of green tourism opportunities for visitors to the region while also boosting the residential experience with its use of universal icons that highlight organic food vendors, parks, green buildings, farmers' markets, and more; and

Whereas, Baltimore Green Map's documentation of our city's assets reflects progress by allowing citizens to work together to build a cleaner, healthier, energy-efficient, and well-informed city; and

Whereas by encouraging discovery, education, and action, Baltimore Green Map's distinctive system promotes stewardship – something that is paramount to the well-being of our planet;

Therefore, I Sheila Dixon, mayor of the City of Baltimore do hereby proclaim June 5, 2009, as "BALTIMORE GREEN MAP DAY" IN BALTIMORE, and do urge all citizens to join in this celebration.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set the Great Seal of the City of Baltimore to be affixed to this fifth day of June, two thousand nine.
